Planning Consultant

Excellent package

Cambridge

Januarys is a forward-thinking and extremely active Cambridge-based Chartered Surveying practice offering a full spectrum of planning services alongside traditional surveying disciplines. Working both independently and in tandem with the firm's highly successful development team, the planning team provides considerable expertise in the commercial, residential and leisure sectors.

The team works for a wide range of clients with a main focus on the Eastern region, but also nationwide. It is equally adept working on development control commissions as it is on development plan cases.

To reflect ongoing work, but in any event as part of planned expansion, Januarys are now seeking a further planning consultant. A high quality, motivated candidate is sought who can play an important part in driving this part of the business forward. The firm has a professional, yet very approachable manner and is seeking similarly-minded professionals, with drive and commitment.

The appointment will be made at a level commensurate with experience, and a package reflecting this will be offered, including a range of benefits.

Please apply with CV and salary requirements to the company's advisor:
